

Transparency Law Update

NGO reports to Israeli Registrar of Non-Profits in 2012

February 2013

NGO Monitor is a Jerusalem based research institution, providing information and analysis, promoting transparency, and supporting discussion on the reports and activities of NGOs (non-governmental organizations) claiming to advance human rights and humanitarian agendas.

NGO Transparency Law update:
NGO reports to Israeli Registrar of Non-Profits in 2012
(as of February 11, 2013)

This report was originally published based on the information that appeared on the Israeli Registrar of Non-Profits website as of January 27, 2013. Since then, the Registrar's website has been updated with additional information. We have updated our report accordingly, as of February 11, 2013.

All donors, names, grants amounts, and projects are taken directly from the official website of the Israeli Registrar of Non-Profits

Transparency regarding government funding for NGOs transcends partisan ideology, and is essential for ensuring the values of democracy and accountability.

NGOs receive funding via two primary channels: direct funding from bodies controlled by foreign governments; and indirect funding, provided by governments to third-parties (foundations, and humanitarian, development, and religious NGOs), which channel the funds to local NGOs.

The "[Law on Disclosure Requirements For \[Groups\] Supported by a Foreign Governmental Body](#)" (NGO Transparency Law - February 2011) provides an appropriate framework to inform the Israeli public, in a timely fashion, about foreign government involvement in Israeli political issues.

As implemented by the Israeli Ministry of Justice, the law is an international model for transparency. According to the law, a "recipient of support that received a donation from a Foreign Governmental Body will submit to the Registrar, within a week of the end of the quarter in which the donation was received, a report in an online form which the Minister of Justice will formulate."

Data

The Israeli Registrar of Non-Profits (Rasham Amutot) lists foreign government funding submissions from 31 NGOs in the total amount of 40,126,562 NIS annually (see appendix I).

The listed NGOs can be categorized according to the nature of their activities:

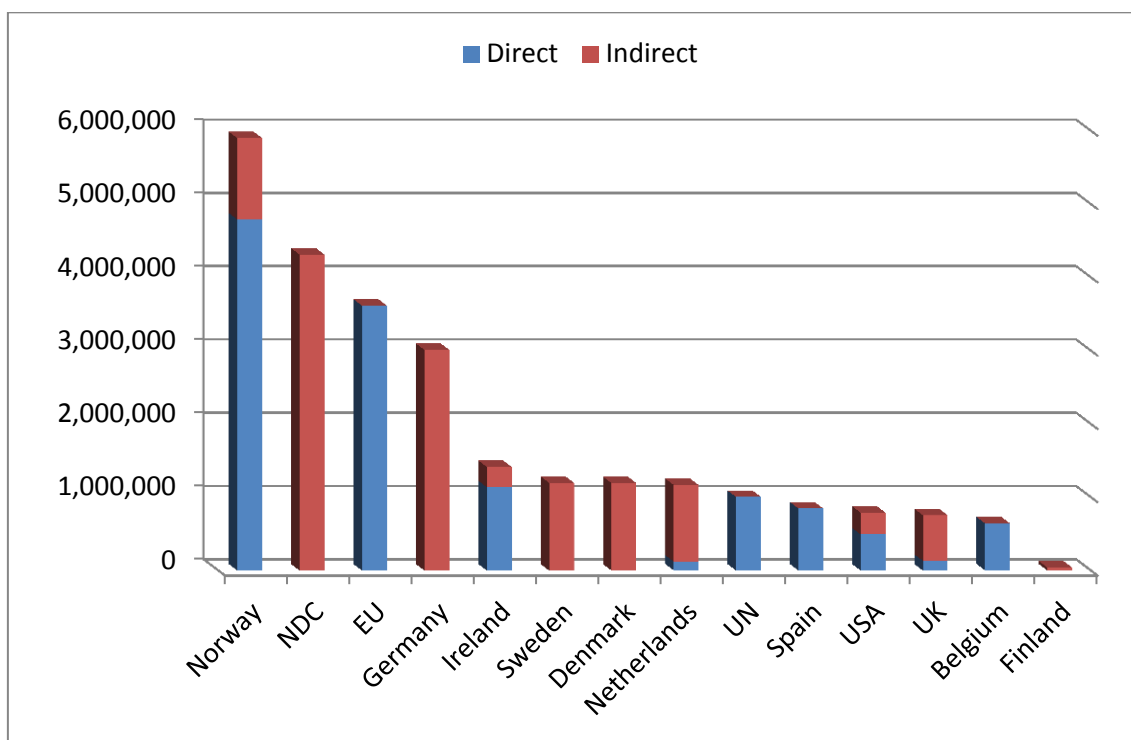

1. NGOs involved in polarizing activity and political advocacy in the context of the Arab-Israeli conflict.
2. NGOs dealing with different dimensions of the Arab-Israeli conflict, with the majority of activity aimed at cooperation and co-existence.
3. Other Non-Profits, dealing with various issues in Israeli society.

As of February 11, 2013, 14 political advocacy NGOs reported grants from foreign government bodies in 2012, totaling 25,881,545 NIS for the year (64.5% of total amount):

- These groups are B'Tselem, Physicians for Human Rights-Israel (PHR-I), Public Committee Against Torture in Israel (PCATI), Yesh Din, Bimkom, Ir Amim, Keshev, Association for Civil Rights in Israel (ACRI), Hamoked, Social TV, Geneva Initiative (H.L Education), Rabbis for Human Rights (RHR), and Gisha.
- Contrary to claims made by B'Tselem in the Jerusalem Post, until 2 days after NGO Monitor originally published this report, February 5, 2013, B'Tselem's website only listed foreign government donations for 2011. On February 5, B'Tselem added the quarterly reports for 2012. (This can be verified based on the date of the webpage and the dates of the PDFs posted on it.) Additionally, for unknown reasons, B'Tselem's submissions for the 2nd quarter of 2012 do not appear on the Registrar's website.
- Donations to Adalah were not listed on the Registrar of Non-Profits website until after NGO Monitor's first report was published (February 3)
- Many other political advocacy NGOs that regularly receive funding from foreign governments did not submit quarterly reports for 2012. It is unknown whether they did not receive foreign government funding during the reporting period, whether they have failed to act in accordance with the law, or whether they did not report due technical issues in the reporting system.
- The added transparency in 2012 reveals major funding by Norway (5,901,260 NIS) and via the NGO Development Center-NDC (4,310,499 NIS),¹ which comprise 22.8% and 16.7% of reported grants respectively. (see appendix II)
- Some of the donors (conduits for indirect government support), such as Christian Aid, Diakonia, Oxfam Novib and the Norwegian Refugee Council, are also involved in highly biased delegitimization campaigns against Israel.

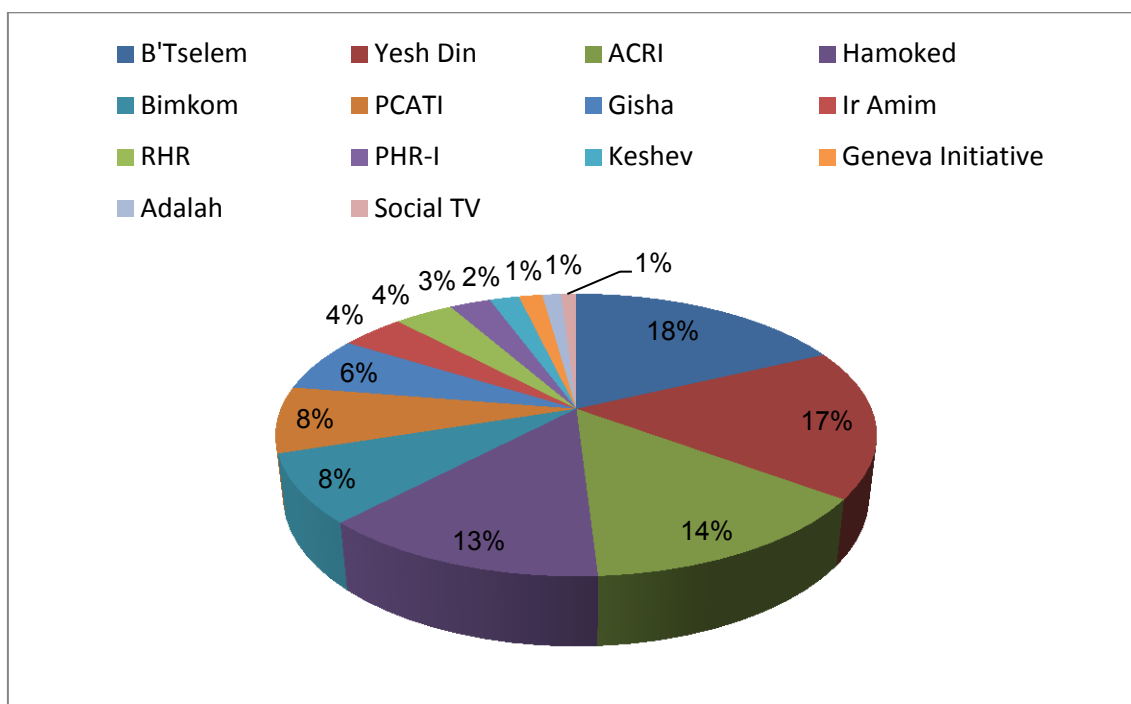

¹ In 2008, Denmark, the Netherlands, Sweden, and Switzerland established the Human Rights and Good Governance Secretariat (HR/GG Secretariat) run by the NGO Development Center (NDC) in Ramallah. This framework is a major source of NGO funding in Israel and the Palestinian Authority.
